

Observations on the Global Bioeconomy from a Youth Perspective

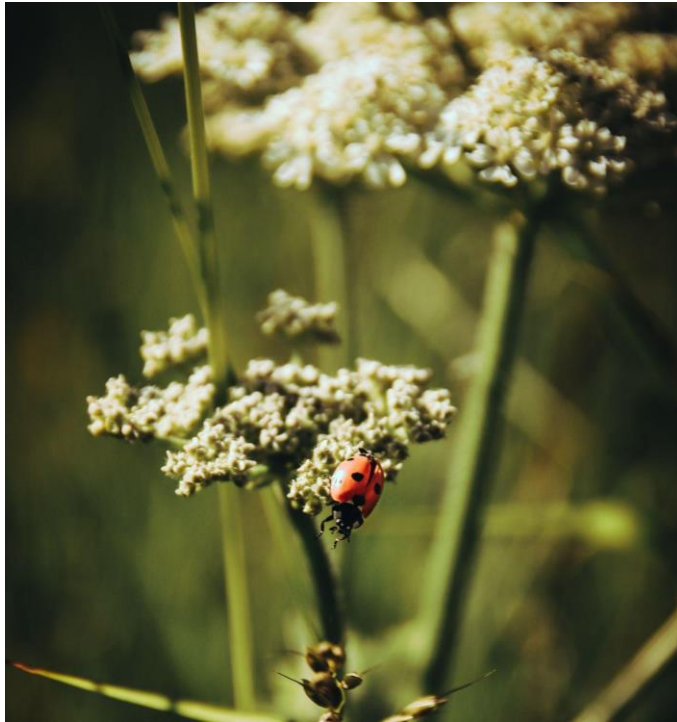

Johann Liebeton, Bioeconomy Youth Champion of IACGB

GenB Cross-fertilisation workshop – June 18th, 2024

01

Overview of the initiative

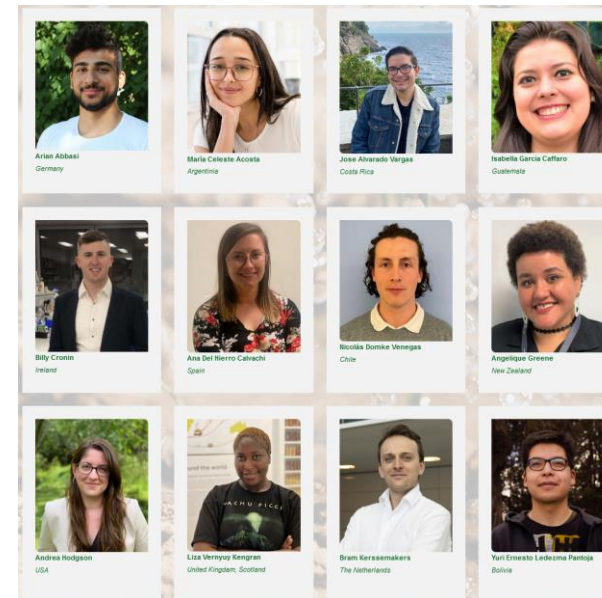

Bioeconomy Youth Champions of the International Advisory Council on Global Bioeconomy

The International Advisory Council on Global Bioeconomy

Independent think tank composed about forty high-level bioeconomy leaders and experts from all hemispheres, representing different backgrounds and expertise.

Bioeconomy Youth Champions

Bioeconomy Youth Champions

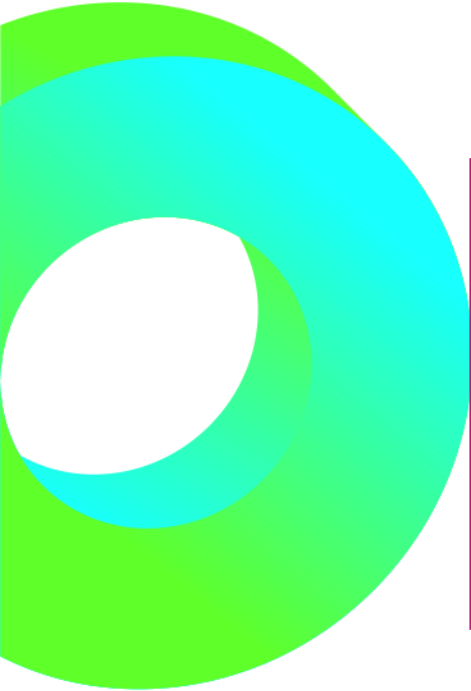

Our aim.

We foster the creation of a global and inclusive bioeconomy youth/young professionals' community.

We gather and disseminate insights on the bioeconomy challenges and opportunities from youth/young professionals across different regions of the world and summaries this findings in a roadmap that we actively communicate to relevant stakeholders.

Our activities

Develop a digital exchange platform

-> LinkedIn group:
<https://www.linkedin.com/groups/8993689/>

Raising Awareness for Bioeconomy &

Developing an Understanding of Global Needs

Communication of Our Learnings and the Needs of Our Target Audience

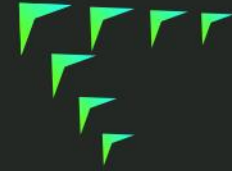

GBS = Global Bioeconomy Summit

Global Bioeconomy Summit 2024

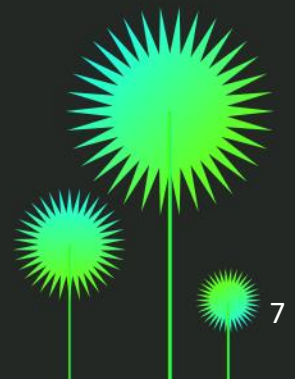

https://bioinnovate-africa.org/global-bioeconomy-summit_2024/

02

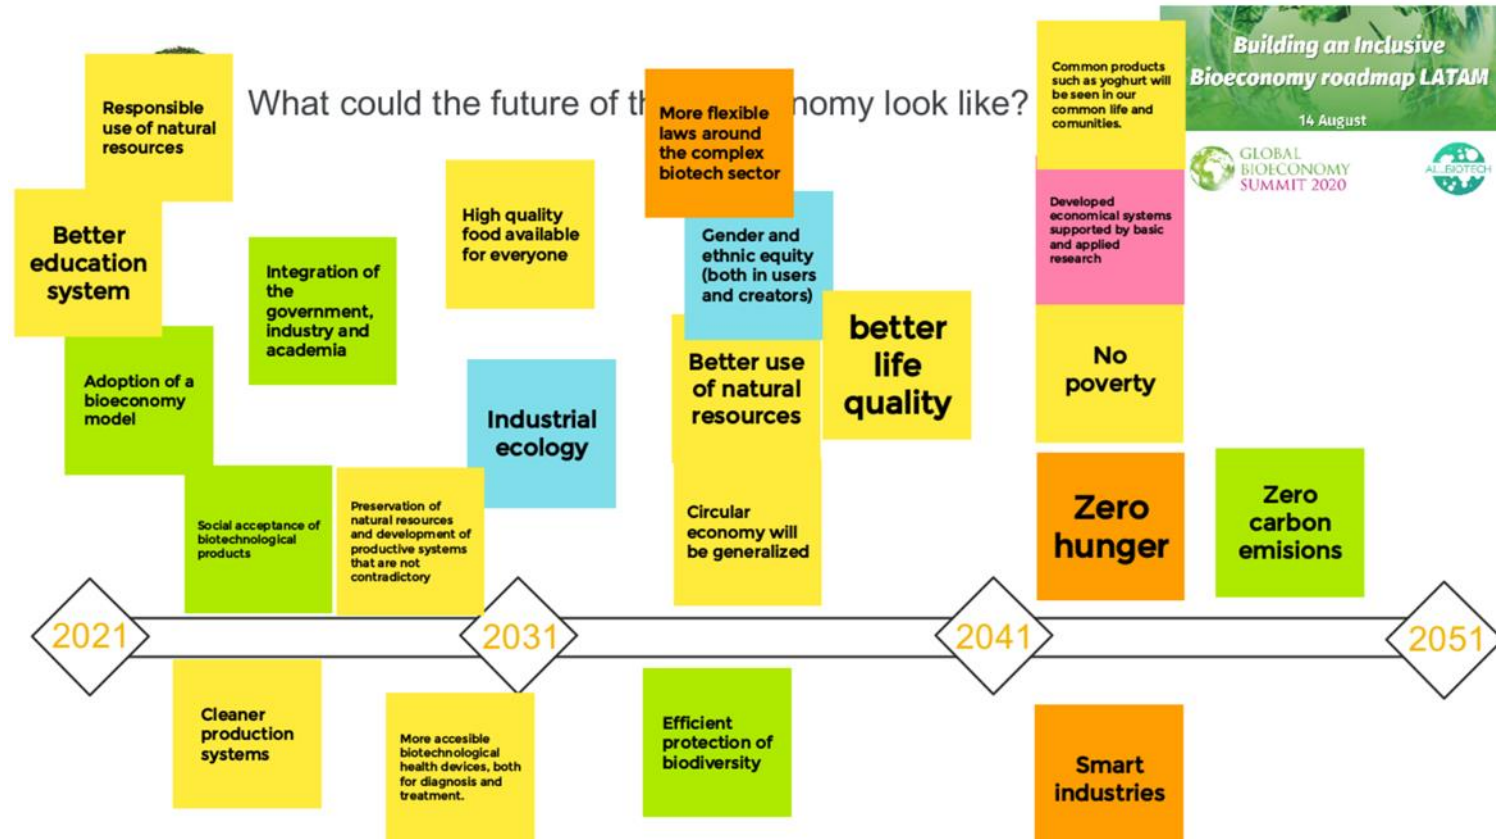

Good practices

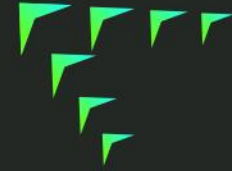

Good practices

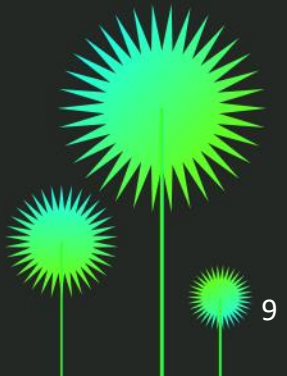

Youth Workshop at GBS 2020

03

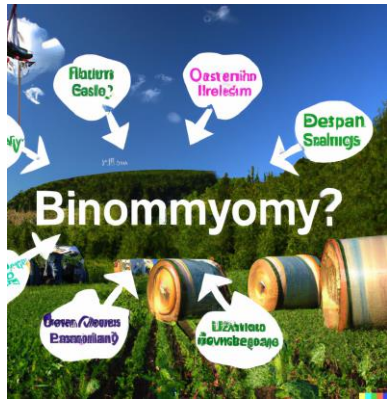

Key challenges

Key challenges

Definition, Increasing Inequality?, Education, Entrepreneurship and Mentoring opportunities

Thank you!

Reach out to us:

Johann Liebeton

johannliebeton@pm.me

LinkedIn group: <https://www.linkedin.com/groups/8993689/>